Dallas, Texas (PRWEB) January 19, 2017 -- Dermatology Associates is pleased to announce its partnership with the Center for Dermatology and Cosmetic Laser Surgery (“CD&CLS” or the “Center”) in Plano, Texas, with additional locations throughout the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex including McKinney, Flower Mound, and Grapevine. The well-respected group of specialists includes four board-certified physicians, five certified physician assistants, two light nurses, and one cosmetic laser specialist.

CD&CLS has won numerous awards and accolades from patients and physicians alike, including the prestigious D Magazine “Best Doctors Award” for 6 years in a row, Living Magazine “Best Dermatology Practice”, “Best Place for Botox”, and “Most Compassionate Doctor”. Comprehensive care is offered for patients of all ages, and preventative dermatology is an important foundation of care.

The collaboration between Dermatology Associates and CD&CLS will allow the highly-specialized and skilled providers to operate autonomously and make all clinical decisions, with the additional support of: management, human resources, physician recruiting, compliance, information technology, payor relations, and financial support provided by Dermatology Associates. This will allow the newest and latest findings, technologies and innovations in medical, surgical and cosmetic dermatology to be available to all current and prospective patients of the practice.

Bryan Selkin, MD, Chief Medical Director of the Center, states, “By partnering with Dermatology Associates, I can now spend even more time on direct patient care and clinical activities, as they assist with the administrative and managerial aspects of operating a large practice. It’s a partnership that will allow me to provide care in ways that wouldn’t have been possible alone, allowing many cutting edge developments in our field to be an easier reality for our patients.”

“We are excited to partner with the outstanding team at the Center for Dermatology,” said Geoff Wayne, CEO of Dermatology Associates. “Their great reputation continues to build our market-leading presence while enhancing convenience and care for the patients of North Texas. As the preeminent Texas-based dermatology practice support organization, we are uniquely positioned to offer the best experience for physicians and patients.”

Ancillary services such as surgical (Moh’s), phototherapy, and cosmetics will all expand as the physicians make decisions and recommendations based on clinical data and new developments in the field. Dermatology Associates will provide the infrastructure and IT support to further upgrade electronic systems to make all aspects of patient flow and care as efficient as possible.

The providers at CD&CLS have many areas of expertise and keep up to date with the newest procedures and developments in their field. Dr. Bryan Selkin graduated from the renowned Harvard University Dermatology Program as chief educational resident and won the “outstanding teacher of the year” award. Dr. Gilbert Selkin has extensive training in maxillofacial surgery, facial reconstruction, and the oral cavity, and offers a wide range of surgical and cosmetic procedures.
